Contract Assignment Certification

It is required by the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) that Housing periodically certify assignment rights to properties/contracts within their assigned offices.

PBCA Coordinators can only certify users for their assigned offices. PBCA Coordinators must certify/decertify each individual user and their role for all contracts in their designated office.

Event Notifications and Email messages will be sent to PBCA coordinators, as reminders, before the Certification Due Date and for overdue certifications.

Objectives:

By the end of this chapter, you will be able to:

- Certify/Decertify contract assignments.
- Search Information by user id or contract number.

Contract Assignment Event Notifications

The PBCA Coordinators for each office will receive an Event Notification (EN) to inform them when their certifications are due. They will receive an EN one month before their office's Certification Due Date. The PBCA Coordinator for each office will also receive one Event Notification for each week that they have at least one contract/user assignment that has not been certified (max of four, overdue Notifications). If a PBCA Coordinator is responsible for more than one office, they will receive these notifications for each office's Certification Due Date.

Contract Assignment Email Notifications-

The PBCA Coordinators for each office will receive an Email to inform them when their certifications are due. They will receive an Email one month before their office's Certification Due Date. The PBCA Coordinator for each office will also receive one Email for each week that they have at least one contract/user assignment that has not been certified (max of four, overdue Emails). Emails are automatically sent out with Event Notifications, by the system. If a PBCA Coordinator is responsible for more than one office, they will receive these emails for each office's Certification Due Date.

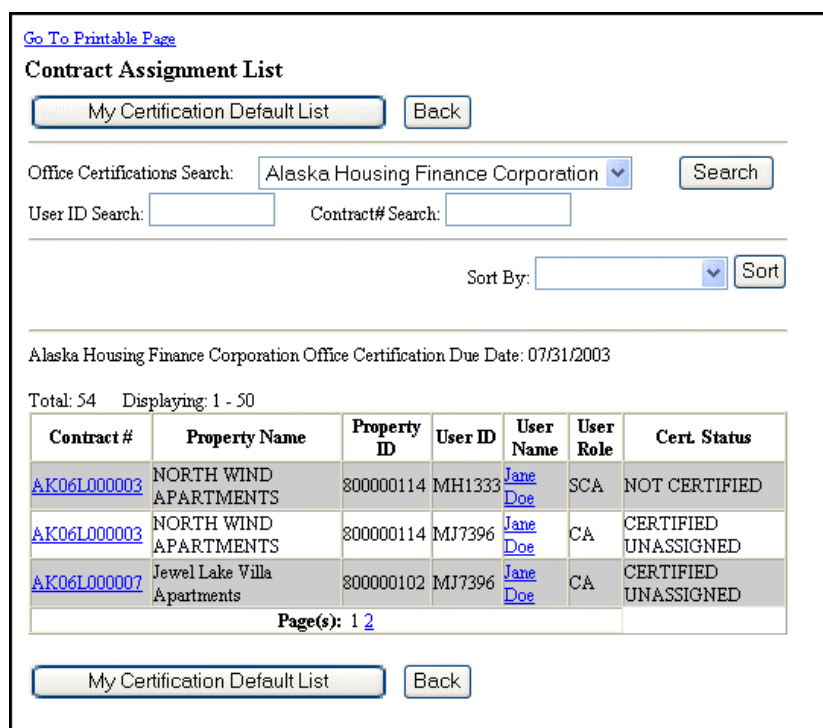

20.1 Contract Assignment Certifications

Certifications for all contracts must be made twice a year. REMS enables users to do this through the Contract Assignment Certification module. The Contract Assignment List Page will display all the Contracts and related assignments for each office. Certifications for PBCAs are based on each contract in a given office. Each individual user and their role must be certified. The PBCA coordinators, REMS Certification Manager, and all Intranet users, except Guest, have access to this screen.

The Contract Assignment list displays all contracts, related properties and assigned users. The contract assignments can be accessed via the Contract Number or User.

To search current assignments

1. From the REMS home page, click on the Contract Assignment Certification button and the Contract Assignment screen displays. The page will display information for your assigned office.
